This fee MUST always be listed in Section A, either included in the Origination Charges or a separate line item Admin charge – but NEVER reflected as payable to CBCMA. Correspondents who choose to pass this cost along to the borrowers must be prepared to have this included in the QM points &amp; fees test. See the Correspondent Lending Guide for more details (section 5.31).   |                           |                |                       |                            |
| Fees to Originator                                       | CBCMA will allow a maximum origination fee of 1.5%. Additionally, the lender may charge for any CBCMA loan level pricing adjustments (LLPAs); charges for loan level pricing adjustments may be seller-paid. Lenders will be required to refund borrowers for any origination fees (including non-bona-fide discount points) exceeding 1.5% plus CBCMA LLPAs. Reasonable lender underwriting, administrative, or program fees are not considered in this calculation; however, they are considered in the QM 3% points and fees test. On brokered transactions, non-bona fide discount points may be charged in excess of the 1.5% origination fee maximum. These loans still must adhere to the QM 3% points and fees rule. At no time will CBC Mortgage Agency purchase a loan that exceeds the QM 3% points and fees test. Bona fide discount points do not contribute toward the 3% points and fees test.  |                           |                |                       |                            |
| IRS Transcripts Requirements                             | Only required for self-employed borrowers, or any borrower that needs tax returns for qualifying. W2-only income is no longer required to be validated with transcripts unless the loan is an identity-of-interest transaction or other QC concerns exist. For W2-borrowers, follow AUS requirements for income documentation, or manual UW requirements if the loan is manually downgraded.   |                           |                |                       |                            |
| Flood Certificate  | Any life-of-loan flood certification from a valid vendor is acceptable as long as the flood certification in the file matches the appraiser's flood information. If this is not the case, CBCMA will pull the certificate from CoreLogic and charge $15 on the PA. (First mortgages must use CoreLogic or Service Link.)   |                           |                |                       |                            |
| Disaster Certificates                                    | In counties that have been deemed disaster areas by FEMA, CBCMA will require a 1004D disaster certificate OR a lender certificate, with exterior photos required for both. The certificate must be dated after the incident period.See the Correspondent Lending Guide for more details (section 5.38).   |                           |                |                       |                            |
| Rate Sheet Compliance                                    | CBC Mortgage Agency cannot control whether or not discount points are bona fide; bona fide discount points may only be offered by retail lenders. CBCMA does offer the rate stack necessary, for some of its products, to make it possible for a retail lender to charge bona fide discount points. | Initial &amp; Final URLA                                 | We require a signed, initial URLA, per Agency guidelines. We require either the initial or final URLA to contain the signature of the originating MLO; the initial URLA must be signed if only the initial document is delivered. The initial URLA must also be completed with the present housing expense section filled out. No exceptions.  |                           |                |                       |                            |
| Required Documents                                       | Secondary financing requires the delivery of a complete second lien file to include an application, LE, CD, and all other state- and federal-required disclosures. Secondary financing requires an initial, signed URLA; TRID compliant disclosures; and any state-required disclosures. The first mortgage file must contain a copy of the note, the deed of trust/mortgage, and a funding obligation letter dated prior to the loan closing date.  |                           |                |                       |                            |
